Small but powerful: Liechtenstein is the sixth smallest state in the world. The fourth smallest state in Europe lies in the centre of the European Alpine arc, between Switzerland and Austria. Since 1921, Liechtenstein has been defined as a constitutional hereditary monarchy on a parliamentary and democratic basis – a successful model that is unique in the world. Culture and cultural activities are as much a part of the Principality of Liechtenstein as the Rhine, Vaduz Castle and the Rätikon mountains. But Liechtenstein is also an experience of nature. Only in the Liechtenstein mountain village of Malbun, for example, is it possible to go hiking with a golden eagle. The Hotel Residence Vaduz is located directly below the Prince's Castle, at the very centre of Vaduz, and is an ideal starting point for exploring the small state. With our experience offer, you can enjoy Liechtenstein's attractions up close – thanks to the Adventure Pass valid for more than 30 attractions and offers (worth over 300 francs).
